History of Newark

Course Description
This course will examine the 350+ year history of the nation’s third oldest city, Newark NJ. Our goal will be to gain an understanding of both the critical events that shaped the city specifically, but also to engage in the narrative threads that define urban evolution in the United States more broadly. We will begin our story before the Puritans arrived and end it with an assessment of where we are today. This course is how Newark became Newark, and all the meanings that encompasses.

Learning Goals
Through class discussion, students will interact with the materials, the instructor, and their peers. In the process, they will practice both their public speaking skills, and learn how to engage critically with the arguments and evidence of the texts. Students will also regularly practice their writing skills in essay exams and papers. In both the written assignments and the class discussions, students will develop their analytical skills by identifying the course readings’ main theses, supporting arguments, evidence, assumptions, and rhetorical strategies.

Blackboard
We'll also be using the web-based Blackboard course software (http://blackboard.newark.rutgers.edu). I will post the syllabus and syllabus updates there, and I'll also post course documents and assignments. Be sure that you have created a Net ID; you'll need it to access the site.

Course Requirements
- Exam One 20%
- Exam Two 20%
- Primary Source Essay 15%
- Group Presentation 15%
- Attendance 10%
- Reading Responses 10%
Exams – Students will take two exams, one midway through the semester and one at the end of the semester. Exams will evaluate students’ understandings of course concepts. Exams are in essay format. Every student will be expected to provide detailed, complex responses that engage with course readings, primary sources, and lecture materials. Students will be evaluated primarily on the thoroughness of their responses and the clarity of the arguments.

Primary Source Essay – Students will produce one 3-5 page essay that engages with primary sources related to Newark’s history. Over the course of the semester, students will learn how to find, interpret, and connect primary sources to ideas covered in readings and lectures. These essays will give students an opportunity to demonstrate their skills as researchers and writers.

Group Presentation – At semester’s end, student groups will make oral presentations on issues currently facing the city (e.g. gentrification, charter schools, policing, environmental justice). The professor and student peers will evaluate each group based on evident quality of research, visual style, and understanding of the issues.

Reading Responses – Students will provide a reading response consisting of a one-paragraph summary of the reading, a one-paragraph personal reaction, and 2-4 discussion questions related to the assigned readings, to be submitted to blackboard the night BEFORE the readings are due. Students are responsible for at least five of these submissions. At least two must occur before the first exam, and two after.

In-class assignments and engagement – Students are expected to engage in classroom discussions. To give every student an opportunity to participate, most classes will include short written responses to questions related to class materials. Students should be prepared for in-class quizzes periodically to check-in on comprehension and completion of course readings.

Attendance
In addition to benefiting you as a student attendance is mandatory. Your course grade will be reduced by a half grade after four unexcused absences and a full grade after six unexcused absences. Any student who misses eight or more sessions through any combination of excused and unexcused absences will not earn credit in this class. Such students should withdraw to avoid getting an F. Attendance will be taken at the BEGINNING of each session, so please arrive by the scheduled time. Two late arrivals (15 minutes after the start of class) are considered an absence. Even if you are absent, you are responsible for all assignments. If you miss class due to illness or emergency, consult another (reliable) student or contact me. You are expected to come to the next class fully caught up on all reading and writing assignments. If you need to leave class early, you are expected to provide notification beforehand, or an explanation as soon as possible afterwards. Early departures will be counted the same as late arrivals.

Academic Integrity, Plagiarism, and Cheating
Integrity is fundamental to the academic enterprise. It is violated by such acts as borrowing or purchasing assignments (including but not limited to term papers, essays, and reports) and other written assignments, using concealed notes or crib sheets during examinations, copying the work of others and submitting it as one’s own, and misappropriating the knowledge of others. The sources from which one derives one’s ideas, statements, terms, and data, including Internet sources, must be fully and specifically acknowledged in the appropriate form; failure to do so, intentionally or unintentionally, constitutes plagiarism. Violations of academic integrity may result in a lower grade or failure in a course and in disciplinary actions with penalties such as suspension or dismissal from the College. The university's policy on academic integrity is available at:
http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity-policy/

All students are required to sign the Rutgers Academic Integrity Pledge and the Rutgers Honor Pledge on each exam.

“On my honor, I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance on this examination assignment.”

Students with Disabilities.
Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus’s disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form. For more information please the Office of Disability Services in the Paul Robeson Campus Center, in suite 219 or contact odsnewark@rutgers.edu.
